THE SOUTH KENTUCKIAN.

HOPKINSVILLE, APR. 13, 1889.

SOCIALITIES.

Miss Lucy Whitlock, of Newstead, is visiting friends in the city.

Mrs. H. H. Burbridge spent Saturday with friends in the county.

Elder. C. K. Marshall is conducting a protracted meeting in Princeton.

Mrs. Chas. L. Wood, of Henderson, paid a flying visit to Mrs. Cooper last week.

Prof. J. W. Rust paid a business trip to Clarksville Friday and returned Sunday.

Rev. A. B. Cabanis, associate editor of the Western Recorder, was in the city Sunday.

The air will soon be laden with the perfume of flowers—orange blossoms especially.

Dr. R. R. Bourne went over to Clarksville Saturday and returned the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben D. Campbell paid a visit to Princeton last week and from thence went to Paducah, where Mr. Campbell was summoned as grand juror in the United States Court.

Frank Buckner and Bob Woodbridge came home from Russellville last week and spent a day or two with their parents and friends and returned to their school duties yesterday.

Dr. John H. Twyman returned from Baltimore last week justly entitled to the title of Dr. D. S. John will make a good dentist and we wish him abundant success in his chosen profession.

Messrs. A. G. Rhea, Jr., and W. M. Wright, two clever young gentlemen of Russellville were in the city Saturday and Sunday visiting their friends and schoolmates, Frank Buckner and Bob Woodbridge.

The New Cemetery.

Mr. Byron Shelton agent of the nurserymen, Messrs. Downer & Brother, of Fairview, who had been in the city for several days planting shrubs and trees in the new cemetery, finished the work last week and kindly took us out and showed us the result of his labors. The trees were planted according to the plots designed by Mr. Grove last fall and soon we will have the most beautiful cemetery this side of Louisville. Entrance avenue has been arranged with exceptional taste and set in masses of various varieties. There has been a neat two-story house erected at the entrance for the sexton. The lots have been set in bluegrass and now present a green and attractive appearance. The walks will shortly be graded. The burying lots are laid off in various figures and are being rapidly sold. Although the cemetery has been open only a few months it is dotted here and there by many graves already. A vault will be built near the old cemetery on Union Avenue in the course of the year. A great variety of trees have been planted, including spruces, pines, poplars, larches, magnolias, junipers, and various other kinds, too numerous to mention. To fully appreciate the beauty of their arrangement one must see them himself.

The Leap Year Hop.

The leap year hop at the court-house Friday night was the principal event of the week. A good number were in attendance though the young ladies were so much in the minority that many of the boys were "left." The occasion was a very pleasant one nevertheless to all who attended. One young lady who was a stranger to all present was the cynosure of all eyes. She was introduced to the young gentlemen, and flirted with them promiscuously. She numbered her conquests by the dozen. Lawyers, judges, book-keepers, clerks and doctors all fell willing victims to her matchless charms and bowed as humble supplicants for one of her bewitching smiles. More than one stole her away from the crowd and in some secluded corner whispered words of love into the beautiful stranger's not unwilling ears. Imagine their disgust when they learned later in the evening that the beautiful stranger was Baylor Hickman arrayed in female attire. The evening was one of much pleasure to all who were so fortunate as to be in attendance.

DIED.

At the residence of her mother, Mrs. Slaughter in this city, on Sunday morning last, Mrs. Fannie D. Hurt wife of Tobe Hurt, aged died of consumption. She leaves two little children. She was an exemplary lady and leaves many relatives and friends to mourn her loss. Her funeral was preached at the Baptist church yesterday morning.

HERE AND THERE.

Don't forget the show to-morrow.

Two of Mr. J. Fry's children have recently died.

Cir-cus it you like, but we must go to see the animals.

The Court House yard is getting green as spring advances.

A protracted meeting is in progress at the Methodist Church.

There is much complaint of flies destroying the young tobacco plants in some sections.

A. W. Pyle has ordered twenty-five baby cradles for the spring and summer trade. Whew!

G. W. Walker had his examining trial Tuesday for the killing of E. H. Jenkins, and was held under a bond of $250.

"Cotton-eyed-Joe" writes a good waylay letter, and we hope to receive many similar budgets of news from his pen.

A communication signed A. D. is assigned to the waste basket because the writer's name does not accompany it.

Alec Lawson, a negro aged 27 years, was tried before Judge Long Saturday, and adjudged by a jury to be a lunatic and will be sent to the asylum.

Mr. T. E. Bartley, of Church Hill, known to our readers as "Shortfellow," left last week for Louisville and Cincinnati to replenish his stock of dry goods and general merchandise.

Don't forget the grand street pageant to-morrow at ten o'clock. It will be the grandest and most magnificent thing of the kind Hopkinsville has ever had an opportunity of witnessing.

Remember the first person who subscribes and pays for the SOUTH KENTUCKIAN for one year to-morrow will receive a ticket to the show as a premium. This only applies to new subscribers.

See the immense stock of watches, clocks, jewelry, &c., just received at Howe's jewelry store. It is beautiful. Mr. Howe is our "old reliable" jeweler, you can depend upon getting a good article when you buy from him.

Four or five wagon loads of negro emigrants passed through the city last week en route for Kansas, the land which is represented to the deluded blacks as a land where "fritter" trees and honey ponds abound.

Messrs. J. G. Horl and J. H. Myers have gone into the grocery business in the room next door to the Post Office. They have a good stock and will endeavor by straight-forward dealing to merit a good share of the public patronage. Give them a call.

Several new correspondents have been added to our list of reporters this week. Almost every section of the surrounding country is now represented. The people cannot fail to see the superior advantages the SOUTH KENTUCKIAN possesses as a county paper.

Jas. M. Howe, our leading jeweler, has just received at his store the largest stock of watches we have ever seen together at one time, and from the low prices he is offering them we can see that he brought them here to sell and not to keep always with the hope of realizing a large profit on them.

"Greens" wishes to know if it is etiquette for a young gentleman to accompany a young lady home from church and stay till eleven o'clock. It may not be strictly in accordance with the rules of etiquette but it is customary with the boys to go in provided there is a fire in the parlor or the weather is not too cold to make it uncomfortable without one, though eleven o'clock is entirely too late to stay under any circumstances, unless the young gentleman has more interesting subjects than the weather, etc., to discuss, and said subjects are equally as interesting to the other party.

Head Mashed.

John Gower a brakeman of Nashville had his head and face fearfully mutilated at Earlington one night last week while coupling cars. One of the cars was a box and the other a flat freight car loaded with lumber which projected. It was dark and Gower went between the cars to couple them together when his head and face were mashed by the timber against the box car and badly crushed. Dr. R. M. Fairleigh of this place was sent for and met the man at Crofton. He found the jaw bones badly crushed and sent back for Dr. Williams the dentist to assist in patching up the unfortunate man's wounds. They succeeded in setting all the broken bones and dressing the wounds and he was sent on to Nashville where his family resides. His chances for recovery were considered fair at last reports. He had a wife and two little children.

Advertised Letters.

Which, if not called for in thirty days, will be sent to Washington, D. C.:
Beau, J. W. Benson, Chas. Brown, Adelle Cantrell, Adam Graves, Tom R. Griffin, C. E. Gray, Gus Hall, Joseph Haines, Joe Howard, W. A. Lewis, Moses McCallie, Geo. Stanton, J. J. Quinton, Miss Mary Raley, Jonathan Ritchie, Cynthia Tucker, J. S. Willis, Mrs. E. W. Willis, Miss Willie Washington, W. H. Williams, Marshall, Whitesides, "Hustion." When called for please say "advertised." S. H. Burbridge, P. M.
April 10 1889.

Often tried and stood the test Farmers hold your Wool until Mr. Lipstich calls on you; he will pay you for your wool as much as any other buyer.

DIED.

Died at her residence in this city, April the 24, 1889, Babbett Elb, wife of Louis Elb, Esq.

The deceased was the oldest Jewish citizen in this city, having settled here 32 years ago, with her then husband, Bernhard Oppenheimer. In 1857, after the death of Mr. Oppenheimer, she married with Louis Elb, Esq., and with the exception of about two years residence in St. Louis, she has been a resident of this city since 1843. During these years she has been actively engaged in business and was recognized as a woman of rare business qualities. She was kind and charitable in the highest degree. Even in late years, when deeply involved in business troubles, she always found something to give to those whom she deemed poorer than herself. In the relations of life, whether as wife, mother, neighbor or citizen, she lived up to the highest standard of excellence. She was buried in the quiet little Jewish Cemetery in the suburbs of this city, and her remains were followed to the grave by hundreds of those who knew and loved her. J. D. H.

BELLEVIEW.

April has come with all the beauty of spring, the earth is wrapped in the robe of green.

The wheat is very promising.

Farmers are busy preparing corn land and will soon begin to plant.

Tobacco plants are up and looking well; the fly has made its appearance, but as yet has done but little harm.

The peach trees are in full bloom and bid fair to yield a big crop.

Mr. Daniel has moved his house to the corner of his lot and intends making other improvements at Bellevue.

Mr. E. F. Blakeley is building a new stable in the rear of his shop.

Miss Lee Lander left Saturday for your city to visit her sister Mrs. Means.

Messrs. Lander & Steele are doing arriving business merchandising.

Mr. J. W. McGehee, returned from the east with his new stock of goods last week.

Mr. Matt Rickman has moved to his son's, and Mr. George Herndon has taken charge of Dr. Clardy's farm vacated by him.

Rev. A. W. Meacham has recovered and resumed his duties as pastor at West Union. A Sunday school will be organized there next Sunday.

SHAKE.

Good indications for frost to-night and we shiver to think of the peaches and other fruit.

A friend informs us that the flies are eating his plants without mercy. Planting corn has begun in good earnest, carding rather dark work.

A Sunday School was organized at Sinking Fork last Sunday, with the following gentlemen for officers: Dr. J. M. Houser, Supt.; Mr. Wm. Hurr, Secy; Mr. T. T. Owen, Librarian.

We trust it may prove a success.

We are glad to see that Dr. L. J. Harris, who has been in bad health for some time past, is now able to ride and accede to be in a fair way to get well again.

Major Rufus Jones left this neighborhood last Saturday for Cumberland river, where he expects to be engaged as Captain of a large steamboat.

We were treated to quite an interesting little talk on the subject of prayer last Tuesday night, by Bro. Ed. Smith, who laid very much to heart from him again.

A young gentleman, while looking at a pair of youthful lovers last Sunday remarked, that "he loved to see people happy," and we guessed that he liked to be happy too, for in a few minutes afterwards he was riding gallantly away with a charming young lady looking very pleasant and contented.

Mr. Editor, is it etiquette for a gentleman when accompanying a lady from church at night to go in and stay until eleven o'clock?

Miss Emma's school is progressing finely, she gives perfect satisfaction. The children all love her and some of the grown up people do too.

"Emde" asked us to write this week, as he would probably be busy among his patients and would not have time himself to write. By the way, he is speaking of one singing, forgot to say that he sang his sweetest song before he arrived at evening, and the gentleman in question did not have any use to sing to until he got home, and then we didn't think he hurt himself much. GREENIE.

LAFAYETTE.

Mr. Editor: That "Beat" of yours, at Garrettsburg, has to some extent forestalled us, by appropriating one of our most interesting items, with which to regale his readers, in the last issue of your valuable paper. Marriage is a subject that engages the attention of all from age to childhood, but since the eternal correspondence has prolonged and presented most beautifully, a happy event of that character, that has recently taken place in our town, we will not add more, except to caution our friend to offer his own merchandise hereafter.

The "Olive leaf" has at last been brought in, and the floods are rapidly disappearing. The high lands have already invited the farmer to his belated toil, and industry will soon regain its wonted sway with that honorable and highly respected class.

Our town has been greatly benefited in the establishment of a first-class Livery stable, by our enterprising townsman, Capt. A. P. Collins, and we bespeak for him the patronage of all who look to the comfort and well being of their stock.

Miss Kate Boddie, of Miss, who has for some time been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Martha Boddie, spent last week with Mrs. Thos. Terry. Miss Boddie is a young lady of rare attainments and finished culture. We hope some of our gallant beaux, with their persuasive art, may succeed in inducing her to make Kentucky her home.

Mr. W. E. Lacy and wife, of the Chickville, neighborhood, have been visiting her father, Mr. W. J. G. Baynham, more familiarly known with us as Uncle Joe. Mrs. Lacy is a great favorite with a large circle of friends, and her return was a social event of real pleasure.

Mrs. T. R. Hancock, formerly of your city, is now visiting her brother, Judge J. S. Ragdale, previous to her departure for New York.

The Conference of the Princeton district is now in session at Canton, Trigg county.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of our popular pastor, Rev. J. F. Radford and wife will be celebrated at the parsonage on the 23d.

Pao Tex.

CENTRE HILL.

Our merchant at Church Hill left for the East Wednesday and purchased his stock of goods for the spring trade.

Dr. Williams has purchased a lot on main street, and is preparing to build. He is an excellent physician and an excellent man, and is preparing to remain among us, his wife is one of our accomplishments, and contributes no little to society.

Miss V. Meacham of Bellevue, is visiting her Mrs. T. E. Bartley and will remain several days.

Our Mr. Bartley's clerk was quite attentive to business during his absence, and seemed quite delighted at the idea of his responsibility.

A plot trial came off this evening upon the farm of Mr. Jas. M. Adams. Those entering the field were the Oliver Child, Diamond Iron, and the celebrated patent Great Britain. The latter owned and entered by Mr. Adams. After testing the merits of all thoroughly, the Diamond Iron bore off the prize, only two dissenting. No one but a granger was allowed to spend an opinion as to their merits, but it seemed that all outsiders were in favor of their decision, although the Diamond Iron was let into the contest quite out of order, yet they triumphed. Your writer is using the Diamond Iron and must say they run easier, do better work, with more ease to plow, as well as the team, than any plow I ever used; you can't choke them, as do other plows; perform good work in hilly land, as well as hard land. Much success to the agents of that plow, Messrs. Gregory & Bro.

Our community is much agitated in regard to our probable candidates for President. Everybody for Tilden, Syrett and the nominees of our party. I only know of three votes that will go for Grant; all opposed to the third term.

Flies are playing havoc with the tobacco plants, and if the cool dry weather continues, there will be but little left of the plants in this vicinity.

Let the Greenbackers and Democrats unite and put out candidates in opposition to the Republican nominees, and they will go in Greenbackers seem a little reticent; we Democrats must do likewise; vote solidly together, and we will carry the county, at the part of wise men either give the leadership to a Greenbacker, or the sheriff. Much dissatisfaction among our colored friends around here. The Republican ticket is a strong one, and will be hard to beat, if at all.

SHAKE.

Wheat crops look well.

There is quite a corn-planting "boom" around here just now.

The bugs are destroying the young tobacco plants through this section.

Scarlet fever is raging here. Robt. Hans, and Johnnie Owsley are down with it, also a little child of Mr. Ed Jones. It seems to be in an epidemic form.

The Swallow Spring over flow still interferes with travel on the Palmyra road. It has fallen, however, about eleven inches perpendicularly in the last four days. We think with a few more days like the past week, we will have dry roads once more, and will save the people much trouble.

Elder Metcalfe preached a very interesting sermon to the people of Liberty the first Sunday night.

Rev. J. M. P. Smithson will preach at Liberty church on the second Sunday in this month, and will probably protract the meeting during the entire week. We have heard a great deal of Mr. Smithson but have never had the pleasure of hearing him preach.

Quite a colony of our citizens will emigrate to Texas next fall. They contemplate sending Mr. R. H. Huggins out there on a prospecting tour next month.

We learn that Mr. El Steger wants a sale buggy-horse, one that a lady can drive. Wonder what lady he intends to drive it?

Miss Ella Riggins we presume is spending a time with Miss Rose Bradshaw.

Mr. A. N. Watkins of Newstead was on a visit to his parents this week.

Mr. Smithson, a gentleman who is conducting business for Mr. Ben Coleman, was married yesterday, to Miss Julia Wilson of Trigg county.

Miss Anna Word is visiting Kato. Major's also her sister Miss Katie is a guest of Mrs. B. A. Seay.

Dr. Riley is laid up this week, his friends say he needs a comforter more than any thing else.

Robt. Owsley is in the horse-shoeing business. He uses copper shoes. The Owsley school house is without a school now, since Prof. Hamilton left.

The early days of this week were very fine, for anglers. A number of fishermen from your city were out on Monday. We do not know what success they met with capturing the "finny tribe."

Messrs John F. Steger, and E. F. Stephenson are the greatest fox hunters in these parts, they some times catch four or five foxes in one day.

Mr. L. B. Allen received a new stock of dry goods and groceries last week.

Dave, the champion fiddler of Beverly, of whom Hiram formerly wrote so much, has moved to Genoa. We people of Beverly were too inopportune for that keen appreciation of good music that characterizes people of refinement.

HOME MARKET.

Sales for the past week aggregate 267 hbls. without any material change in prices, lugs being in demand and somewhat animated. While leaf of every description exhibited weakness. The remarkable feature of the market is the large amount of lugs and common leaf offered from week to week, and the almost entire absence of the better grades which usually make their appearance before this period of the season. The crop not only bids fair to be a very mean one but much shorter in this district than formerly anticipated. The "bug," dry comes up from every neighborhood, and there is no doubt that had have been committed and if the present cold dry spell continues many days longer, the first sowing will be entirely swept from the beds. Planters are becoming daily more despondent over gloomy plant prospects, and condition of tobacco lands from heavy rain fall and the present very low range of prices. All, however, are expectant and hopeful of better prices soon, but much question whether any calamity to the young plants would arouse the trade in dark tobacco from its slumber. Van Winkle slumber until stocks in the open markets become lighter.

The Maysville city manufacturers accepted the scale of prices adopted by the cigar makers' union, and all the hands in the city are at work again. They had been on a strike for some time.

The tobacco market is dull. There is very little offering. Several houses have stopped work on account of the scarcity of the weed.—Owensboro M. and E.

(Western Tobacco Journal.) Asiatic tobacco is much milder than that grown in America.

Tobacco was first cultivated by the Spaniards for the beauty of the flowers.

Chas. Miller, Cigar Manufacturer, New Orleans, was convicted and sentenced March 19th, to three months confinement and to pay a fine of $400, and costs for having made cigars without giving bond in accordance with the Internal Revenue laws.

One hoghead of medium bright wrappers from Weakley county, Tenn., was sold in Nashville last week for $15.00. The color was not clear or well defined or it would have brought more.

The product of six acres of tobacco was sold in Durham, N. C., for $633.63; another lot of 1,012 pounds for $313.40, being an average of $30.91 per hundred. It was grown in Chatham county, North Carolina.
